

U.V. Stabilizer masterbatch for LDPE Films

We also hold expertise in providing U.V. Stabilizer masterbatch for Low Density Polyethylene Films. It is an inexpensive and general purpose commodity material that find application in outdoor purposes. For the endurance of the product, low density polyethylene is also used in sprint wrap's industry film and tarpaulins. We also facilitates our clients by providing these masterbatches with more stabilization options, thereby ensuring cost efficiency and outstanding results.