

Plate Heat Exchanger Gasket

Raw Materials:

Our gaskets are most commonly manufactured in Nitrile, EPDM, Viton and HNBR rubber. We can also use other materials as per the client's requirements.

Application:

Plate heat exchangers are well-sealed using these gaskets to prevent fluids escape and fill any irregularities. These are also used to prevent any leakage under compression.